Each one of our rust-resistant Fuller Brush STAINLESS STEEL SPONGES is actually over 8,000 inches of two continuous 100% stainless steel strands coiled 40,000 times for increased flexibility and cleaning power. Outlasts steel wool. There are no loose ends to snag or scratch. Guaranteed to outlast other scrubbers made from less durable nickel, brass, and plastic. Specially designed stainless steel coils cut through stubborn grease, grime, baked-on food. Strong and flexible for use on ovens, BBQ or oven grills, cast iron or steel pots and pans (inside and out), appliances, dishes, stoneware, outdoor furniture, even tools and shovels - anywhere you need strong scrubbing power. Gentle to your hands, won't splinter, and lasts longer than ordinary steel wool pads. Will NEVER RUST. Since it's a Fuller product, it is made to last much longer than other scrubbers. Mfr in Kansas USA. (Exact same Sponge also available in the Stanley 2-pk.)

MAINTAINENCE: To clean out debris and food particles, simply run under water, stretching it out. Sponge may also be put in the dishwasher silverware section to clean and deodorize. Great useful gift too!

Roland says "My wife said she'd allow me to test out our products by cleaning the oven; she's so nice to me. I sprayed the worst spots with Degreaser Spray and used the stainless steel sponge that we keep by the sink for the pots and pans, to get the oven looking like new again, with No scratches."

Range Hood Cleaner! "You know how your Range Hood gets all greasy and nothing seems to cut that grease? - I just sprayed some Degreaser Foaming Spray on and rubbed lightly with a Stainless Steel Sponge, and wiped off with my dish cloth; squeaky clean now!" These are two versatile MUST HAVE products for every home." Scrubs baked-on food off your stove without scratching; use Fulsol or soapy solution to begin dissolving the food. (see Fulsol testimonial sheet)

Roland says "I try to keep one or two of most products in my inventory, but I try to keep at least a dozen boxes of these on hand. Our scrubbers don't scratch and gouge like some cheap store brand imitators; you can even rub nylon stockings with them." A new customer, Marion G in NJ, had been looking for Fuller and called me, finding me through another mailorder customer, saying "the Stainless Steel pot scrubbers are very good. They last a whole year. They don't stink or smell [like other pot scrubbers]. The stores around here have some that are 2 for $1, but they don't compare to what you've got." Similarly, Mary S. says she bought some stainless steel sponges at a local grocery store, tried one, then threw the rest away. She said they couldn't compare with Fuller's product. The others tend to be rough and scratchy.

SOME OTHER IMAGINATIVE TERRIFIC USES: KITCHEN RELATED: Don't peel vegetables, just scrub your potatoes and carrots with one of these and you'll throw a lot less of your vegetables and nutrients in the trash. Use to silk corn. Remove tea stains from cups. People also say they are terrific for scaling fish!

OTHER INDOOR USES: Clean rust, lime and hard water stains off glass shower doors, porcelain or fiberglass tubs, sinks, faucets. Remove rust from any surface. Clean stains off countertops. ∞ A Holder for arranging flowers. Clean flower pots. ∞ Rub lightly to remove dried paint droppings from your floor or furniture. ∞ Clean drywall/plaster knives, applicators, and mud pans. ∞ Remove black scuff marks and tough stains from floors.
